Day 3: Vocabulary, Reading, and Speaking Practice

Grammar practice: Lessons 1, 1.1, 2.0

As you work through the grammar and writing exercises, write down the correct versions of the sentences, a study habit which will reinforce the grammar that you are studying.

Find opportunities to use the grammar your study as you complete the writing and speaking practice tests in this course.

Reading practice: Lessons 1.0, 1.1, 7.0, 21; Speed Reading Practice Tests 250, 255, 260

During this 30 day course, work hard to increase your reading speed from 250 to 350 words per minute. If you can not score 80% on the 250 word reading passage, then move down until you can score at least 80%. These reading practice tests are NOT TOEFL iBT reading practice tests; thus, they do not include all the iBT reading question types you will see on the actual exam. They are designed to help you increase your basic comprehension of academic reading passages while increasing your reading speed five words at a time.

There are NO TOEFL iBT reading practice tests in this course. However, periodically, using your TOEFL book (Cambridge, Longman, Kaplan, Barron, and so on), you should complete a reading practice test and review all the incorrect answers so that you understand your mistakes.

In addition, you should engage in a regular routine of extensive reading for about 45 minutes a day several days during the week. Choose a non-fiction or fiction book or your choice, preferably one that is at least 350 pages or more, and read regularly from that book. Do NOT worry about trying to understand every word on the page. Your goal is to understand the gist of the book while maintaining optimal concentration.

Speaking Lesson 1.0, 2.0

Complete independent speaking practice tests 31-33 at Michael's Better TOEFL Scores Voxopop Discussion Group. Evaluate yourself using this rubric.

Make an effort to take notes during all the listening practice tests in this course. Then use your notes to answer the questions. To practice integrated writing and speaking skills, you can use your notes to write or make oral summaries of what you have listened to. If you make oral summaries of the lectures, you can post them Online at my Better TOEFL Scores Voxopop Discussion Group.

Furthermore, since most of the instruction in this course is delivered by video, make an effort to take notes on all content you are taught in this course. Using your notes, make written and oral summaries of everything you learn.
